

CHRISTIAN SABBATH

EVANGELIST KNOX TELLS WHY HE OBSERVES SEVENTH DAY OF WEEK

That Saturday, the seventh day of the week, instead of Sunday, the first, is the Sabbath commanded in the Bible to be kept as a day of rest and worship, was the statement of Evangelist Philip L. Knox, in his discourse at Evangel Hall, 115 South San Fernando road on Wednesday, on "The Lord's Day." He pointed to the fourth commandment of the decalogue, in Exodus 20:8-11, and said the statement is there made that "the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord, thy God." It is then, he said, the Lord's day.

"The Sabbath was made for man," said Mr. Knox, as he read Christ's words in Mark 2:27. "The Sabbath was not made for the Jews only, but for all mankind. Though the law was given at Sinai, it was given for the whole world. But the Sabbath was set apart in Eden, before Adam sinned. Genesis 1 tells of the work of creation on six days, and the second chapter tells of the institution of the Sabbath. It says, 'God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made.'

"The record is that the days of the week were bounded by the setting of the sun. First came the evening, or dark part of the day, then the morning, the light part. When God finished his work he gave man an example by resting upon the seventh day. Then he set the day apart to be perpetually observed.

"The commandment says we are to observe 'the seventh day' because 'in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and hallowed it.' It was upon 'the seventh day, not 'a' seventh day, that the Lord rested. The six working days are common time, in which God intended we should do whatever work is necessary, but the seventh He has made holy time.

"Why keep a day at all unless you keep the one God commanded to be kept? You can not keep a day holy unless it has been made holy. Suppose I have a little daughter, and I put a dirty dress upon her and say, 'Now, whatever you do, keep that dress clean.' She would ask at once, 'How can I do that? It is not clean now.' But if the dress is clean at first, it can be kept clean. God gave us an example by resting upon the Sabbath, and we will not come far short if we do as he did.

"Why do the boys shoot off their fire-crackers on the Fourth of July? And why do the banks close and the people have a general celebration? Because it is the day upon which we became independent of Great Britain. It is a memorial of that event. The Sabbath is a memorial of creation, commemorating that great event in the history of the universe. Of the seventh day Sabbath we read in Psalms 135:13, 'Thy name, O Lord, endureth forever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations.'

"Jesus kept every Sabbath that came. Luke 4:16 says that Jesus, as his custom was, went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day. The Pharisees accused Christ of breaking the Sabbath, but Christ's answer was that 'it is lawful to do well on the Sabbath day. He told them his actions were in harmony with God's law, not a violation of it, and that he was keeping the Sabbath.

"But was the seventh day Sabbath kept after the crucifixion? Luke 23:52 to 24:1 tells how Joseph of Arimathea begged Jesus' body of Pilate on Friday afternoon, and taking it from the cross laid it in a new rock-hewn sepulchre. The text says, 'That day was the preparation, and the Sabbath drew on.' The women then went home, prepared spices for anointing the body, and because the Sabbath came on with the setting of the sun Friday night, they 'rested the Sabbath day according to the commandment.'

"Now the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared.' Thus on the first Sabbath after the crucifixion, the disciples who had been most closely associated with Jesus, rested 'according to the commandment.' No mention is made of any change in the day of worship. Mark 16:1, 2 says that 'when the Sabbath was past, very early in the morning the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.' Friends, you never yet arose early enough Sunday morning to find the Sabbath there. On the first day of the week the Sabbath is past.

"Christ's instruction to his disciples when he foretold Jerusalem's destruction, was, 'Pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither

P-T. A. PARTY

MRS. ELLA RICHARDSON IS HOSTESS TO LADIES IN PACIFIC AVENUE DISTRICT

The beautiful home of Mrs. Ella Richardson, 805 Central avenue, was the scene of activity yesterday for a number of the ladies of the Pacific avenue school Parent-Teacher Association. The spacious rooms were decorated with roses and ferns. At 12 o'clock the happy party surrounded the table, which was beautifully decorated with pansies, and partook of a delicious luncheon. The chief feature of the day was a number of unique games and guessing contests, which all entered into with much zest. Miss Doris Packer gave several delightful readings, which were greatly appreciated. Mrs. Vella Robinson read several selections from Foley. Mrs. Harry Greenwalt read "The Cremation of Dan McGee," by Robert Service. Mrs. Stephen Packer and Mrs. Roscoe Puffer gave a unique number, with Mrs. Greenwalt at the piano, which caused much merriment. The hostess, Mrs. Richardson, served tea, cake and delicious home-made candy at the close of the very pleasant afternoon. This delightful affair was one of a series of get-together social times the ladies of the Pacific avenue school association have planned. Those present were Mrs. Stephen Packer, Mrs. A. S. Chase, Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, Mrs. Frazier, Mrs. Von Oven, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mrs. Colin Cable, Mrs. McQuiston, Miss Eva Daniels, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Chas. E. Shattuck, Mrs. Vella Robinson, Mrs. Hanning, Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Mrs. Ella Richardson, Miss Eulalia Richardson and Miss Doris Packer.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. A. Baum of 526 North Glendale avenue, Tropic, celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary on Sunday evening in a most enjoyable manner. About fifty-eight of their friends and relatives gathered at the new K. of P. hall in Tropic and celebrated royally. The affair had been planned by the sisters of Mr. Baum, Misses Gertie and Sarah Baum of Los Angeles. Among the guests were Mrs. Louise Mueller, who is Mrs. Baum's sister, and Barnetta and Louise Benoist, of New York City, who are spending the winter here. Barnetta and Louise Benoist are the children of Andre Benoist, who is the accompanist of Albert Spaulding, the noted violinist. Mr. Spaulding and Mr. Benoist are to come to Los Angeles in about six weeks to play. Mr. Benoist is Mrs. Baum's brother-in-law. This was the first private party that has taken place in the new K. of P. hall and it presented a very gala appearance in its pretty green and white decorations, the same color scheme being carried out in the elaborate supper served. Toasts and speeches were enjoyed and a few hours were spent in dancing and music, a few very pretty fancy dances being given. Mr. and Mrs. Baum received a considerable amount of very fine aluminum ware and were showered with congratulations at having so happily reached the tenth milestone in their journey through life together.

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Q. Roberts were host and hostess Wednesday evening at a delightful dinner party. The charmingly appointed table was adorned with a dainty combination of violets, pink roses and smilax. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tower, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ellis and the host and hostess. After the delicious 7 o'clock dinner music was enjoyed, the hostess being a talented pianist, and delightful social intercourse helped to make the evening a very happy one.

HAGOOD & FERGUSON HAVE AGENCY FOR DORT CAR

The Hagood-Ferguson Motor Co., 1102 W. Broadway, who have been distributors for the Briscoe, have taken the Glendale agency for the Dort automobile and have two carloads in transit which are expected to arrive in Glendale within the next ten days.

on the Sabbath day,' as we read in Matthew 24:20. Jerusalem was not destroyed until 70 A. D., and Christ's followers were still observing the Sabbath at that time. Of Christ's church at the end of time, the very 'remnant' of his followers, we read in Revelation 12:17 that they 'keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.' Revelation 22:14 adds that 'blessed are they that do His commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.'

PRESIDENT WILL ANSWER GERMANY

NATURE OF COMMUNICATION IN REPLY TO GERMANY'S THROWING DOWN THE GAUNTLET NOT YET REVEALED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—President Wilson is about ready to answer Germany's note. Secretary Lansing has prepared a communication on advices from the president, the nature of which has not been revealed. The state department has suspended the issuance of passports to travelers and this action might mean a break in our diplomatic relations with Germany or it might mean a modification of Wilson's former stand and that he has decided to prevent Americans from traveling on the high seas.

GERMANY ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

PEACE CONDITIONS MADE BY ALLIES COULD ONLY BE ACCEPTED BY DEFEATED PEOPLE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
AMSTERDAM, Feb. 1.—"Germany accepts the challenge to fight to a finish and is staking her all to win. President Wilson's speech shows a sincerity for peace but the conditions our opponents have made could be acceptable only to a defeated people," declared Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg in an address before the main committee of the Reichstag to-day.

SUBMARINE CAMPAIGN STARTED

NO OFFICIAL STATEMENT AS TO CHARACTER OF BRITISH REPRISAL OF GERMANY'S ULTIMATUM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, Feb. 1.—Germany's new campaign of submarining has started. The Dutch steamer Epsilon was the first victim and the British steamer Trevean, the Belgian steamer Euphrates and three British colliers have been reported sunk. There is much speculation here but as yet no official hint as to the character of threatened British reprisals. Officials say that the recent allied naval conference was to prepare for such German action.

NEUTRALS CONSIDER NOTE

SPECIAL CABINET MEETINGS AT COPENHAGEN AND MADRID DISCUSS GERMANY'S ACTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
COPENHAGEN, Feb. 1.—A special cabinet meeting was called to-day to consider Germany's inauguration of a submarine campaign. Advices from Spain say that a cabinet meeting was called there for the same purpose.

GUARD GERMAN LINERS

AFTER NECESSARY PRECAUTIONS ORDER PROHIBITING DEPARTURE OF SHIPS IS LIFTED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—After establishing guards around the interned German liners, the order prohibiting the departure of ships from this port was recalled.

DIPLOMATIC DIFFERENCES WITH JAPAN

OREGON AND IDAHO SENATORS REFUSE TO INTERFERE IN ANTI-ALIEN LAND LEGISLATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Possible diplomatic differences with Japan were seen when Counselor Polk of the state department conferred with Oregon and Idaho senators, asking them to use their influence to prevent the legislatures of their states from passing anti-alien land laws. It is understood the senators refused to interfere.

SPANISH SHIPS TO CONTINUE TRAFFIC

CABINET ANNOUNCES THAT SEVERE MEASURE WILL BE TAKEN TO PROTECT SHIPPING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
MADRID, Feb. 1.—The Spanish cabinet officially announced to-day that Spanish ships will continue their traffic with the Allies, but that "severe defense measures will be necessary."

WAR BIG POSSIBILITY

NEW YORK AFTERNOON PAPERS SAY PRESENT SITUATION BETWEEN GERMANY AND U. S. IS GRAVE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The afternoon papers here are reflecting the view that the present situation between Germany and America is fraught with the gravest possibilities. Papers throughout the nation take the same serious view of the matter and many state that war is a big possibility.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT

MUTUAL BENEFIT READING CIRCLE STUDIES WELFARE OF CHILDREN

Thirty women attended the weekly meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Toll at North Glendale, Wednesday, January 31. Among these were three new members, Mrs. F. Eichelberger, Mrs. Geo. M. Harrison and Miss N. E. Dewey; also two visitors, Mrs. C. M. Hill and Miss Anne Olden.

Review questions on "Studies in Child Development" and the discussions resulting from the answers thereto occupied almost the entire time. Just enough time was left to read "The True Conquest," from "Beckonings from Little Hands," by Patterson Du Bois. This story develops the thought that, though the parent is superior in age, in strength in experience, in judgment, in authority, this superiority is given him for help in training the child to do the right thing rightly,—that is, because it is right. "The parent is accessory or auxiliary to the child's development of his own powers in a right—a God-ward—direction."

Next week "The Training of the Boy," by William McKeever, will be begun. The keynote of this book is, "Train the whole boy and not merely a part of him." Hence the book is devoted to the topics of Industrial Training, Social Training, Habit Training and Service Training. No phase of the boy's activities is overlooked or slighted.

All mothers of boys are cordially invited to attend the circle and listen and take part in the discussions that are incidental.

U. AND I. CLUB

The ladies of the U. and I. club were the guests of Miss Ida Myers at her home, 307 South San Fernando road, Tropic, Wednesday afternoon, when several very happy and profitable hours were spent. The program consisted of a piano solo by Mrs. Edgar Fry and a travelogue on London, England, and Switzerland given by Mrs. Ed. Virden. The travelogue was made up of letters written by Miss Melicent Virden on her way to Berlin in 1910, which were wonderfully descriptive, showing a mature judgment far beyond her years, and nothing of historical interest was passed by. The letters were intensely interesting and greatly appreciated. Miss Virden spent two years abroad studying music. She was in Vienna fifteen months studying under Prof. Leschetizke and the rest of the time in Berlin, Norway and Sweden, and in Berlin she was a pupil of Rudolph Ganz and Arthur Schnable. Miss Meyers exhibited some fine Japanese tapestry in which the guests found much interest. Chocolate and wafers were served at the close of the afternoon by the hostess. The guests of the club present were Mrs. Duncan of Los Angeles, Mrs. Metheril of Glendale and Mrs. Whitmer, and the members present were Mrs. Van Etten, Mrs. Ida Belle Ludden, Mrs. Hillman, Mrs. E. V. Findley, Mrs. C. W. Kimmerley, Mrs. Becker, Mrs. Chas. Stewart, Mrs. Chas. Phillips, Mrs. Ed. Virden, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Lang and Mrs. Dionysius.

PETER BARR PASSES AWAY

Peter Barr of 344 Linden Way, Eagle Rock, passed away Wednesday, January 31, at the age of thirty-three years. He was born in Massachusetts on December 10, 1883. He was the local manager for the Fred Harvey eating house system. The remains have been sent to Providence, R. I., for burial, being prepared for shipment by the Pulliam Undertaking Company. The deceased leaves a wife and mother to mourn his loss.

DEATH OF MRS. WM. I. THORP

Mrs. Minnie H. Thorp passed away in Glendale on January 30. She was the wife of Wm. I. Thorp of Plano Colony and had lived in California for eighteen years. She was a native of Indiana and was born on January 17, 1868, being 49 years old at the time of her death. The funeral services will be held from the Pulliam Undertaking parlors on Saturday at 2 o'clock, with interment in Forest Lawn cemetery.

ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Daniels of 300 S. Central avenue were host and hostess at a dinner party Tuesday evening, January 24. The table was beautifully arranged with a basket of golden poppies as a centerpiece. Covers were laid for Victor W. Daniels, Mrs. G. Phillips, Miss Eva Daniels, Mr. Harold W. Phillips, Miss Reba Phillips, Miss Helen Daniels and the host and hostess.

NEW LAW FIRM

DWIGHT STEVENSON WILL BE ASSOCIATED WITH MATTISON B. JONES

Dwight W. Stevenson, 223 N. Central avenue, Tropic, has just announced his association for the practice of law with Attorney Mattison B. Jones, Suite 824 H. W. Hellman building, Spring and Fourth streets, Los Angeles. This announcement is of great interest to Glendale people as both men are residents of Glendale. Mr. Jones is one of the best known attorneys in Los Angeles, having practiced his profession in that city for the past seventeen years in both state and federal courts. He is a native of Kentucky and received his early education in the best schools of his home state, later being a member of the faculty of Williamsburg Institute (now Cumberland College) and the state college of Lexington, Kentucky. He was admitted to practice law at London, Kentucky, in 1895.

Mr. Jones has been and is a profound student of law. For some time he occupied the chair of Private Corporations in the college of law of the University of Southern California, giving up that position on account of the increasing burden of his private practice. He is a member of the Bar Association of Los Angeles county and of the American Bar Association.

Mr. Jones is one of the leading members of the Baptist denomination on the coast and president of the Board of Trustees of the University of Redlands; he is a lifelong and loyal democrat and a Mason of high standing.

The junior member of the firm is a native of Illinois. He attended the elementary schools in that state, coming to California at an early age. For the past ten years he has lived in Glendale, graduating from Glendale Union high school. After his graduation from the high school he entered the University of Southern California and graduated from the law school of that institution. For the past three years he has been connected with the legal department of the Title Guarantee & Trust Company as associate counsel. He is a young man of brilliant mind and a determination to excel in his profession, in which he has already made rapid strides. Friends of Mr. Jones and Mr. Stephenson are tendering them congratulations on the establishment of this new relation.

OLD FASHIONED HAND SHAKE

The quarterly "Old Fashioned Hand Shake" will be held to-night in the West Glendale Methodist church, at the corner of Fifth and Pacific. These meetings are held for the purpose of stimulating a deeper friendship among the people of the church and congregation. The Gleaners will have charge of the evening of fun and amusement. A good program is being prepared and light refreshments will be served. Everybody is welcome and a good time is expected. Some good news will be broken by the pastor which the people will be glad to hear about. People will commence coming at 7:30. The church welcomes you to this evening of sociability.

BASKET BALL

The Glendale high school basketball team will meet Covina Saturday afternoon at half past two on the home grounds. For two consecutive years Covina has beaten Glendale out of the championship by a margin of two points. Our boys expect to get revenge Saturday. The school is making preparations to turn out en masse and it is hoped the rest of Glendale will be well represented. The line-up for Saturday's game: forwards, C. West, M. Fischel, R. Fannett; centers, D. Hagin, O. Williams; guards, T. McIver, R. Tummell.

Y. P. B. SOCIAL

The home of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Palmer of 116 W. Colorado boulevard was the scene of a jolly social gathering on Tuesday evening January 30, when they entertained the members of the Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. The program consisted of piano solos by Misses Lena Mae Brice, Elizabeth Mottern, Hazel Walter and Ruth Palmer. Mr. Will Marple and Miss Ellene Grist gave two very pleasing vocal solos. A reading by Miss Leone Brice completed the program, after which games were played and delicious refreshments of cocoa and cake were served to the twenty young people who were present. The Branch is growing in numbers and the interest in temperance work is increasing likewise.

THE FLOOD CONTROL BOND QUESTION

Upon general principles the flood control bond issue which is to be voted upon February 20 is one that should meet the approval of the voters of Los Angeles county and especially should it meet with the approval of people who reside in territory that is liable to be flooded on account of a lack of proper improvements of wash channels. Glendale territory has two such channels, one commonly known as the Verdugo wash and the other as the Sycamore canyon wash. The flood control bill, known as the Baker bill, which has been approved by the legislature and which has in it provision for the expenditure of a large sum of money for the improvement of the Verdugo and Sycamore canyon wash channels, is being analyzed and commented upon throughout the county and it pleases us to say that the comments are mostly favorable to the bill.

The question seems to arise in the minds of a few Glendale people just how and where the money appropriated for the Glendale improvements is to be used. There seems to be doubt in the minds of a few as to whether those having the improvement in charge will use the money wisely and improve the sections of the washes which are in greatest need of being improved. Just why this doubt should exist is something that is not understood by the average citizen. One of the first steps in the selection of engineers and boards of commissioners should have been to see that only fair-minded persons would be chosen to such positions. The Evening News has no cause at the present to question the ability and fairness of those who have this work in charge, and at present anything that may be said in the way of criticizing those having the work in charge will only tend to lessen the chance of the election carrying February 20.

The bond proposition for the flood control is an excellent one generally considered, and trifling reasons should not be the means of its defeat. However, it is fair that those who honestly ask questions for information should be answered in an intelligent manner and if it is practical and possible for those who now have the work in charge to state definitely just on what portions of the wash the greatest amount of the money will be spent, it is in place to do so, but if it is not in the power of those having the work in charge to give out this information, it should be taken for granted that when it comes to the proper time for making these improvements the money will be spent wisely and on the portions of the wash that will be of the greatest benefit to all concerned. The work to be done is much needed and the bond issue should get the support of all voters of the county.

EVENING NEWS ENDORSED

From many sources come endorsements of the Evening News as being a paper full of local and condensed general news.

Not a day passes but new names are added to the subscription list, and the sale of extra copies of the paper has greatly increased the past year.

The Evening News receives almost daily communications commending the management for the wise selection of reading matter and the absence of bitter denunciations and sensationalism.

The columns of the Evening News are open to communications from a considerate people, and the paper is largely what the people of the community make it. It is indeed pleasing to the management to know that it meets with the approval of a large per cent. of the intelligent people in the territory over which it circulates.

OLD FASHION AND NEW FASHION HAND SHAKE

In to-day's issue of the Evening News is an announcement of an old fashioned hand shake to be observed under the auspices of one of the churches.

If it is an old fashioned hand shake, that means that the hands of the persons engaging in the hand shake will be in a position about on a level with the heart and not the chin or top of the head, and that there will be a firm clasping of hands and not a mere interlocking of fingers. The old fashioned hand shake is a from heart to heart hand shake and the new way would seem like a head to head hand shake.

The manner of shaking hands and the manner of salutations count for much as to the condition of the heart of persons who meet, and greet one another. The careless hand shake and the indifferent salutation do not count for much more than a mechanical form that society uses as a symbol of good manners. There should be a revival of the old fashioned hand shake.

A GREAT SALESMAN

The following item, appearing in a recent issue of the New York Times, will prove of interest to many of our readers. The Joseph Clendenin referred to is the brother of our esteemed fellow townsman, W. J. Clendenin. Mr. Clendenin's brother is vice-president of the Guggenheim Co. and manager of the sales department of the American Smelting and Refining Co. His rating as one of the great salesmen of the country is amply testified to in the clipping given below, which appears under the heading, "Leading Salesmen."

"Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, is generally referred to as the world's greatest salesman. His success in landing excellent contracts for his company in the early days of the present war from foreign governments gave excellent proof of his ability. I have in mind another great salesman—one whose activities during the past year resulted in a gross business of between $250,000,000 and $300,000,000. I refer to Joseph Clendenin, manager of the copper sales department of the American Smelting and Refining Co., which in 1916 is credited with having sold at least a billion pounds of copper. Mr. Clendenin is listed as vice-president of the big Guggenheim Co. but his duties have to do almost entirely with the sale of the vast amount of copper which this agency handles for its own mining and smelting companies as well as for at least a dozen of the largest producers in the world including the Utah Kennecott, Cerrito de Pasco and Chile concerns.

"Throughout the copper trade Mr. Clendenin is credited with having conducted on behalf of the American producers, the last big sale of copper to Great Britain and her allies, involving 448,000,000 pounds of copper in which practically all of the big mining companies, whether they sell through his agency or not, were invited to participate."

BARACA SOCIAL

Mr. and Mrs. Nunn of 1417 Hawthorne street will entertain the First M. E. Baraca Class at a social this evening and all members are invited to be present.

STUDIES IN PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

By Walt. Le Noir Church

STUDY XIV. WHAT IS EDUCATION?

That vital question may be answered in one short sentence: "Education is Receiving and Giving."

That being a fundamental fact, it is generally admitted as a truth, also (a fact being an actual relation between two or more realities regardless of your opinion; while a truth, to you, is your individual understanding of such relation, regardless of the actuality).

The usual differences of opinion regarding education relate rather to what should be received and given, and to the methods thereof.

But for the purposes of this study we wish to avoid differences, as far as possible, and consider only admitted actualities.

Perhaps the paramount preliminary question would be:

WHAT, or WHO, is to be educated?

But as that also may be answered in several more or less conflicting ways, let us suppose that you answer it to suit yourself; deciding or assuming the facts regarding your origin; whether you are all spirit, all matter, both or neither; whether by nature you are merely a duality of Mind and Matter; or a trinity, because of the additional Spirit; or a foursome (if we may borrow a term from golf), because you possess another essential factor, the Ethical, or innate power of perceiving right and wrong.

Now, supposing you have decided all these things for yourself, whether from personal knowledge or from belief in what has been told you by others, whether you learn objectively or subjectively, or in both ways.

Then we can begin pretty close to what you may consider the Beginning of Consciousness in this life.

You are really conscious of very little that you can remember after you are able to tell about it.

The enlargement, or increase, in the number of things you are and become conscious of, with your perception and understanding of the relations and inter-relations of those things, will constitute your EDUCATION, for the purposes of these studies.

Now let us see what you have to work with, the working tools, so to speak, with which you begin your own education. (Certainly no one else can educate you. Others can merely contribute to the material on which you work.)

1. You possess a Consciousness, or primary faculty of knowing.

2. You have the trine ability or capacity for receiving and giving, or using.

3. You are endowed with the primary power, Will, which enables you to do things with what you have received.

This small list seems to include all the "Working Tools" with which you start out in this life, to develop and educate yourself along all possible lines.

But since you can neither use nor give away what you have not, then your first business in life is to receive something—be such something ever so little. But the moment you do receive it, and are conscious of the fact, your Will enables you to do something, however little, with what-soever you have so received and become conscious of. You can either use it yourself, in whole or in part, or you can, perhaps, give it out, express it, to be received or not by others capable thereof.

You find by experience, learned from Nature direct, or through others, that self-preservation is of paramount importance to your comfort and well-being. So in time you learn self-control. You deny yourself the imagined pleasure of playing with that beautiful flame, because you have learned that it hurts.

Later, perhaps, you deny yourself more complicated pleasures for the same wise reason. But others, again, you decide, "Well, what if it does hurt, now or hereafter; it is so good in the present, I will just take a chance, that possibly in my case, something may happen to enable me to avoid the disagreeable, or even ruinous consequences."

Being a "free moral agent," having the right of personal choice in many instances, when temptation and opportunity meet, you yield; and too often "Life is never the same again."

Note: It might be well to bear in mind that the paramount as well as the primary object of education should be to learn, use and express that which is most beneficial to ourselves and our fellows.

(To be continued to-morrow.)

Facts and Comment

More than 1000 former and present residents of Kansas attended the twelfth annual picnic of the Kansas Society of Long Beach at Long Beach Monday, and celebrated the fifty-sixth anniversary of the admission of the Sunflower state into the Union. Steps were taken at the meeting to effect a larger and more active organization and hold six meetings yearly in Long Beach. The annual picnic has been the only gathering in the past, this being held on the 29th of January each year.

Monrovia is beginning to have a Mexican problem of her own. More than 1000 Mexicans are at the present time living in Monrovia and Duarte. This number is increasing, owing to the influx of families from Mexico, some of whom have actually walked from their homes in Mexico to relatives here to escape intolerable conditions in Mexico. A Mexican welfare society is being planned by several Monrovia organizations with the co-operation of the Los Angeles County Charities association. The object will be to promote the interests of the Mexican people and begin an educational work among them that will aid them in securing employment and in selling their crafts products.

An agreement is reported as going into effect Monday between the Southern California retail grocers and the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, whereby this section will be given the same quality of oranges as are shipped to the eastern cities. The agreement is the result of a demand for better oranges made through the Federated Women's clubs. This will be good news not only to the easterner visiting in the southland but to the native Californian, who has lived in a fruit section and knows what real fruit should taste like, as well. It has been the tendency in recent years to ship everything worth while possible in both the citrus and deciduous fruit line to the eastern markets, dumping the culls and poorer quality on the home markets. Consequently it has been a difficult matter in the markets of the larger cities to secure good fruit. The fruit shipped east is not always fully ripe and therefore loses in natural flavor, so more delicious fruit should be found in our home markets, but such has not been the case in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McClung of 1325 Dryden street are spending the week at Orange and will return home Friday.

Mrs. David S. Bennett and her daughter of 1432 W. Colorado street are spending ten days at Mrs. Bennett's mother's ranch at Nordhoff, Cal.

Attorney Henry P. Goodwin of 142 West Tenth street, Tropic, left Tuesday for Mexico on legal business. He expects to be away a week or ten days.

I. W. Barnett, of the manual training department of the Alhambra high school, accompanied by C. L. Bothwell, visited Glendale Monday on business connected with their department.

Mrs. Cora S. Taylor and Miss Maybelle Douglass of the Columbus avenue school and Misses Annie L. McIntyre and Mary Emma Saxton of the Central avenue school were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll and small sons, Maynard and Carroll, on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Salo Desky of 139 S. Kenwood street have as house guests Mr. and Mrs. Nate Desky of Brush, Colo. Mr. Desky was a visitor here some time ago and this time brought his wife with him. Another brother, M. H. Desky, and wife of Salt Lake are also spending the winter in California.

Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery of 117 South Kenwood street, who motored down to Coronado Sunday, have returned home. Mr. Emery went down on business and Mrs. Emery accompanied him for a few days' rest. They report more tourists at Hotel Coronado than they have seen there for years, both the main and the private dining rooms being used to accommodate the guests.

A cable message was received Tuesday by Mrs. A. Baum of 526 North Glendale avenue, Tropic, bearing the sad news of the death of her brother, Emile Moses, in Central America, where he had been engaged in the fruit business for the past twelve years or more. His death occurred on January 27. His mother, Mrs. E. Moses, also lives in Tropic, residing with her daughter, Mrs. Baum.

The Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon club will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Temple, 301 Orange street, on Monday, February 5, at 2 p. m. The second half of the year's work will be reviewed and an outline of "The Tempest" will be given. It is hoped that all members of the Tuesday Afternoon club, and especially all friends of the curator who are lovers of Shakespeare, will enroll on that day.

The Pioneer Thimble club met at the home of Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke, 1430 West Third street, on Wednesday afternoon, when several delightful hours were spent in doing fancy work, and at the close of the afternoon dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Three guests of the club were present: Mrs. Sam Frazee, Mrs. Blake Franklin and Miss Rosemary Button, and the members present were Mrs. Pierre Potter, Mrs. Ira Vinton, Mrs. Clem Brubaker, Mrs. Raymond Frey, Mrs. H. M. Whitaker, Mrs. J. W. Andree and Mrs. A. R. Chappell, Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke and Mrs. Sarah Van Dyke.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Anderson of Hollywood and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller of Whittier, who have just returned from a nine months' tour of the north, east and south, were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Horsh of 130 Cedar street, Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Miller went as far north as Washington, as far east as New York, and visited Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska, and state that in all their travels there was no place like dear, sunny, old California. They, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Horsh, were all former residents of University Place, Neb., so the reunion was a happy one. Dr. Laura Brown of Lincoln, Nebraska, who is the house guest of Mrs. M. P. Harrison, also spent a few hours during the afternoon at the Horsh home.

Mrs. J. C. McKee of 115 North Kenwood street has as guests at her home to-day Mr. and Mrs. Savage of Salt Lake City, who are spending the winter in Orange, Mr. and Mrs. Smiley of Orange and Mrs. Farquhar of Ontario, Canada, who is also spending the winter in Orange.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Spickerman, of 2223 West Twenty-ninth street, Los Angeles, on Wednesday, January 31, 1917, a son. The little man has received a hearty welcome from his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Spickerman of 236 North Maryland avenue, Glendale, being their first grandson.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL

The play and concert given Tuesday evening by the English and Music departments of the Intermediate school were a grand success, largely due to the capable efforts exerted by Miss Mallory and Miss Wetherby. All participants in the program are to be congratulated on the superior talent they displayed. The proceeds of the entertainment are to be devoted to the needs of the school orchestra and to the purchase of library books.

The following program was given:

300 PLANTS TO BE DISTRIBUTED

Three hundred beautiful plants and bulbs are to be given away this evening at the High School auditorium to every person attending the meeting. The stereopticon lecture by Wm. Raitt, Los Angeles and Chicago expert, should of itself fill the auditorium. The subject, Civic Recreation Centers, is one in which every man, woman and child is vitally interested; it is pre-eminently a vital question to the taxpayer.

Everybody come and hear about Civic Recreation Centers. A civic recreation center is passed by everyone who travels to Los Angeles by street, car. Did you know that? Did you ever go into that recreation center, that municipal club house, and examine it for yourself? Yes? No? Come out to-night and visit by means of stereopticon pictures a hundred municipal club houses. This entertainment is under the auspices of the Glendale Garden Society. It offers the novelty of a Plant-Grab at the close of the lecture. Everybody come, put in your hand, and pull out a wrapped-up plant.

NANNO WOODS.

The spring flower show of the Horticultural Society of Redlands will be held on April 13 and 14. There will be 102 classes. Interest will center in the two challenge cups, the George Willer cup for amateurs and the Chamber of Commerce cup for professionals.

THE HOME-LIKE CHURCH

This is the designation Elder Cole said in his Sunday morning sermon he wanted to see applied to the Christian church. A hearty handshake and cordial greeting is bestowed on all visitors and they are made to feel at home. The sermon on Christian Education was most pleasing and the large audience greatly enjoyed every word of it. The speaker contended that in less than ten years the great universities would be true to the name and take only college graduates as students, giving them the higher training in any line desired. He said the best and most solid education was given in the church school and pleaded that Christian parents should send their children to none but church colleges.

In the evening "The Diagnosis of a Christian Endeavorer" proved to be a decidedly unique address. It was prefaced by a short speech from Homer B. Miller, president of the local C. E. Society, in which he referred briefly to the growth of the Christian Endeavor from its founding 36 years ago with 20 members to its present membership of eight and a half millions. He made a plea for the assistance of all in the big county C. E. convention to be held in a tent across from the church building on March 16, 17 and 18. The pastor opened his address by stating the object and plan of Christian Endeavor and how it has made a place for the young people in the church work. He then made an acrostic of the word "Endeavor," giving the symptoms in medical terms that diagnose the true Endeavorer. It was indeed an interesting address.

Elder Cole begins next Sunday a series of three sermons leading up to the every-member canvass to be held on Sunday afternoon, February 18.

800 TOYS FOR CHILDREN

To-morrow, Friday, 800 toys will be given away by the Glendale Garden Society. Every child attending any performance of "A Modern Cinderella" will be presented with a toy. The Garden Society is the only organization in Glendale which opens all its meetings to the public. It has effected several splendid pieces of civic work,—witness the Free Flower Show last April, when over 5000 persons visited the beautiful exhibit. Remember the birdhouse contest and exhibit, the first on the Pacific Coast. Within two winters eight stereopticon lectures have been given the public. And six floral contests and free exhibits for 1917 are now scheduled, when over 20 silver cups will be awarded. This is a record to be proud of. This is an organization which every resident in Glendale should boost and boost mightily. It exists on 25 cents annual dues. It should command the respect and assistance and good will and co-operation of every Glendale citizen. The three benefit performances to-morrow evening should be crowded to the limit.

NANNO WOODS, President.
MORRIS E. CARUTHERS, Secretary.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to the many kind friends who extended sympathy in our late bereavement, to those who sent floral offerings, sang and the minister and others who assisted in the funeral services of our late beloved husband and father, Rev. J. C. McKee.

The cotton crop of the Imperial valley for this season is estimated at between 55,000 and 57,000 bales. Not more than 40,000 bales have been ginned to date. This new California industry continues to grow in importance.

LA CANADA

With the hope of securing relief from the present inconvenient mode of travel from La Canada to Pasadena, a delegation, authorized by the La Canada Improvement Association, met last Monday to confer with some members of the Pasadena Board of Trade.

The members of the delegation, headed by Mr. Jesse Knight, J. P. Johnson, Nicholson, H. C. Cooper and others, explained the isolated condition of La Canada, caused by the condemnation of the Arroyo bridge over a year ago.

Because of the statements of several engineers, declaring the bridge safe, the people of La Canada believe that they should be allowed to travel over the bridge. The inconvenience caused by this closure has necessitated traffic going either through the Arroyo bed or around the Linda Vista road.

After agreeing to take immediate action, and look into the matter, the Board sent Engineer Thompson out to look over the bridge.

According to Thompson, traffic not exceeding four and one-half tons to the span, driving at a slow rate, would be safe on the bridge. Thompson and the delegation secured an interview with the Supervisors that afternoon. The matter was carefully laid out before them. As far as could be stated that afternoon the bridge would be opened soon if the necessary legal procedure can be established to the satisfaction of the Supervisors.

One of the most attractive little dances of the season took place last Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bently of Texas avenue.

After a couple of hours of dancing, the guests were entertained with music and readings. Miss Lulu Lanterman gave two vocal solos, Mrs. Max Green furnished humor with a Dago dialect reading, and Mr. Durkey showed his mastery of the guitar.

Those present were the Misses Harriet and Lulu Lanterman, Helen Cooper, Rowena Green, Aldine Norton, Henrietta Horn, Dorothy Lester and Messrs. Robert Cooper, Harwick and Tyler Van De Grift, Robert Horne, Durkey, Mr. and Mrs. Max Green and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bently.

The La Canada Christian Endeavorers wish to announce their next business meeting and social at the home of Mr. H. S. Cooper, Friday night, February 9. The program committee has planned some good original games and are not very crazy about having all their originality wasted on only a few. They would be pleased if you could make an effort to be on hand and help to make the evening a success.

In an attempt to keep out of the way of the barking dogs and to save little David Metcalf from falling out of the machine, Walter Borne, clerk in the La Canada People's Grocery, lost control of his machine last Monday while driving along Pert street, and baby, boy and machine landed in the ditch.

The machine turned over on its side, but neither occupant suffered the least injury. With the aid of neighbors living in that vicinity, the machine was put back in the road. With a twist of the crank the engine demonstrated that everything was in perfect running order.

"I have driven machines all over mountain roads and never had an accident," said Mr. Borne, as he lifted the Metcalf baby into the machine, "but this is the first time I ever lost control of one on level ground."

Because of the attractiveness of good music and an excellent dancing floor, several young people from La Canada attended a club dance last Saturday night at the La Crescenta school house.

Four months ago a club was formed of all those interested in the promotion of dancing in the La Crescenta school house. After starting out with only eight or ten members, the club has grown to over fifty in membership. Only those who are paid-up members of the club or their friends may attend the dances.

Those from La Canada who enjoyed the gaiety of the evening were: Misses Helen Cooper, Dorothy Lester, Aldine Norton and Dora Kyler, Messrs. Robert Cooper, Marion Lea, Robert Horne, Howard Stickney and Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith.

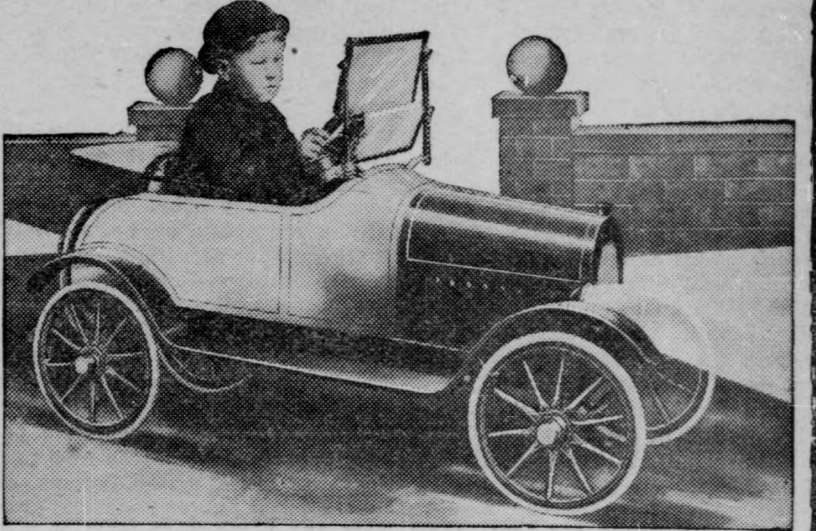

The regular meeting of the La Canada Valley Improvement Association will be held at the Club hall Saturday evening, February 3rd. Mr. Ashby, president of the Foothills Valley Federation, and Dr. Buck, also from Tujunga, who has supervised the check dam work installed in Haynes and other canyons, including work on Mr. Earl's property, will address this meeting on the subject of Flood Control.

Having secured these speakers, it is desired that the people of the valley take advantage of the opportunity to become familiar with the character and result of work of this character. Music will also be a feature of the meeting.

The attendance at some meetings recently has been disappointing after outside speakers had been secured through considerable effort of our officers, and in some instances at some inconvenience to the speakers. It is hoped that the people of the valley will all attend the meeting of the 3rd inst.

Those who are quite satisfied sit still and do nothing; those who are not quite satisfied are the sole benefactors of the world.

918 W. Bdwy., Next the News

It was at a large family dinner party. Robert, who sat in the high chair next to his mother, had been trying to tell her something for a long time, but the long-winded old great uncle was launched on one of his stories and Robert's mother kept saying, "Uncle is talking; wait until he stops." Robert was patient, but finally blurted out to the amusement of the entire company: "But, mama, he doesn't stop."

Little Robbie had been shopping all day with his mother. He was tired when they took a car and found standing room only. His mother clung to a strap, and the little chap clung to his mother's coat and dozed. He would open his eyes every time the car stopped and look for a seat. Finally the little fellow opened his eyes and said in a loud voice: "Haven't any of these people got homes, mamma?"

OUR EARLY PRESIDENTS

The roads leading to the homes of our early Virginia presidents were filled with admirers, who arrived, according to the custom of the south by coach and chariot, bringing their horses and their servants and staying sometimes for days to cumber the stables and empty the larder. Washington, one of the richest Americans of his day, escaped bankruptcy, having the fortune to die within three years of laying down the presidency. The others all suffered. Jefferson paid the penalty of fame by being literally eaten out of house and home, and his biographer's idyllic statement that "no hard work was ever done at Monticello" scarcely tallies with the assertion of his daughter that she and her household servants were sometimes called upon to provide beds for fifty people. Monroe said of his visitors that "some were bounties and some were taxes."

On the whole he thought there were enough of the former to offset the latter, but, in his opinion, pensions for former presidents were a necessity, since under our republican plan they could not shut their doors and refuse hospitality to this sentimental horde without discredit to the country.—Helen Nicolay in Century Magazine.

FLEETEST ANIMALS

Writers of a century ago were firm in the conviction that the greyhound was the fastest living animal; some maintained that he could run a mile in a minute. Modern observers, however, have found that the best hound is by no means able to keep pace with a trained race horse. Indeed, the late J. A. Graham, a careful student of such matters, used to say that no living animal could out-foot a modern race horse.

A first rate horse running his best and not handicapped by carrying a rider can run a mile in less than 100 seconds. A fleet hound, such as those used in coursing, can run a mile in about a minute and fifty seconds. A jack rabbit is nearly as fast, and an antelope is considerably faster. Mr. Graham thought an antelope might run a mile in a minute and forty-five seconds.

On the other hand, Mr. Cottar, an old African hunter, thinks that Thomson's gazelle would have no trouble whatever in running away from the fastest horse and that Grant's gazelle and the gerenuk are almost equally fleet.—Youth's Companion.

GEMS OF ANSWERS

Among the gems of history answers on examination papers are the following:

"The courage of the Turks is explained by the fact that a man with more than one wife is more willing to face death than if he had only one."

"Julius Caesar was murdered at the moving picture house."

"When the last French attack at Waterloo proved a failure Napoleon turned very pale and rode at full gallop to St. Helena."

Among "howlers" on general subjects were the following:

"Ambiguity means telling the truth when you don't mean to."

"The flannelette peril means petticoat government."

"Much butter is imported from Denmark, because Danish cows have greater enterprise and superior technical education to ours."—London Globe.

ENGAGEMENT RINGS

The custom of giving engagement rings ran back to long before the Christian era. With the ancient Egyptians engagement rings were always of iron, to indicate the mutual sacrifice of liberty of the contracting parties. One of the very earliest adornments of betrothal rings was a lead stone, which symbolized the attractive force which drew a maiden from her own family circle into that of her husband. It is believed that the fourth finger has always been the bride's ring finger.

The clerk was up to his ears in parols. He was a good salesman, had a rare command of language, and knew how to expatiate on the best points of the goods he sold. As he picked up a parol from a lot on the counter and opened it he struck an attitude of admiration and said:

"Now there! Look at that silk! Isn't it lovely? Particularly observe the quality, the finish, the general effect. Feel it. Pass your hand over it. No nonsense about this parol, is there?"

"No," said the lady, "it has worn well. That is my old one. I just laid it down here."

One of the big eastern structural companies having a contract to build a traveling crane above a coal-handling plant at a dock, decided to employ a surgeon to remain "on the job." The honored one was given a note which read: "Please hand this to the foreman in charge and tell him that you will look after any of the men who may be injured by falling from the work." The doctor, without ado, went out to the plant. He looked up at the false work that was being built in preparation for the crane and it was so high that the men on it looked like lilliputians. He thought of the possibilities if one of them should fall to the dock, and he said to the foreman: "I think the company made a mistake. It should have addressed this letter to an undertaker."

PRESIDENT OF THE ANTHROPOLOGISTS

The high honor of election as president of the American Anthropological Association has come to Professor A. L. Kroeber, head of the Department of Anthropology of the University of California.

Of the researches which have won Professor Kroeber national recognition, typical is what he has done toward rescuing from extinction some of the fast disappearing Indian languages of California. When, nearly twenty years ago, Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst began to assemble the great anthropological collections the University of California now possesses (on which she spent more than a million and which today could not be duplicated for less than from three to five million dollars) Professor Kroeber was placed in charge of the University's Ethnological Survey of California. He and his colleagues and research students have gone about among the native tribes of California, have recorded in a phonetic alphabet the myths and traditions told them by the Indians, and have worked out dictionaries, grammars and volumes of texts of many aboriginal tongues never before reduced to writing. They have made phonographic records of ceremonial songs and incantations and tracings showing with scientific exactness just how every sound of a particular Indian language and the myths, religion, household arts and ways of life of the aboriginal tribes of California made by Professor Kroeber and his associates have been given to the world by the University in eleven volumes in the University of California Publications in Anthropology, of which Professor Kroeber is the editor. He himself has written many valuable contributions to knowledge in this field, one typical achievement being proof of previously unsuspected relationships between a large number of the native languages of California. It had previously been supposed that there were twenty-two unrelated language stocks among the Indians of California, but Professor Kroeber reduced this number to twelve.

A member of the faculty of the University of California since 1900, Dr. Kroeber had previously taken part in anthropological expeditions to the west for the American Museum of Natural History of New York, and had served in the Department of Anthropology at Columbia University, where he graduated and took his degree of Doctor of Philosophy. Besides carrying on his researches he trains advanced students in analysis of the structure of aboriginal languages and methods for their recording and study, and gives also courses on general anthropological problems such as the effect upon man and his civilization of war, the revelations of archaeology and anthropology in regard to the life of the ancient Hebrews and the problems of heredity and civilization and the origins and development of human institutions and of knowledge.

AND BY THE DAY

"Old man Scadds is a funny proposition. After working hard for forty years and making $1,000,000 he bought a farm out here and now he is working harder than ever."

"Oh, well, he has three hired men to do the resting for him."—Minneapolis Tribune.

FRIENDSHIP

"I'm surprised that Digby didn't ask you to be best man at his wedding. I thought you were very intimate friends."

"We are. Digby says I'm the best friend he's got in the world."

"Then why didn't he ask you?"

"Because I'm lending him my dress suit to get married in."—Exchange.

LIFE'S CRUCIBLE

It was said of Diderot that in his invariable optimism he was like one of the old alchemists, who always found gold in his crucible because he had first put it there. That is what the wise man, the instructed soul, learns to do, for life consists always of what we ourselves put into it.

SAYINGS OF THE DAUGHTER

"It's hard to be a hero to your own daughter."

"What's the matter now?"

"My child looked me over this morning and said, 'Pa, ma surely must have married you for your money.'"—Detroit Free Press.

REVENGE IS SWEET

The messenger from the dockside stores with a government contract hailed a vessel in dock at Liverpool. "What do you want?" growled the surly mate.

"Got some vegetables for the ship," was the reply.

"All right! You needn't come aboard. Throw them up one at a time," said the mate, as he stood ready to receive the vegetables.

"Aho, there, look out," shouted the lad, as he threw a small dried pea toward the mate. "I've got two hundredweight of these."

Nothing boosts the value of blessings like their removal.—Chicago News.

BETTER BABIES IN PICTURE PLAYS

The moving picture theater is beginning to take a hand in the child betterment campaign. Recently, the Chicago Health Department started a campaign for Better Birth Registration. "Somebody's Birth Certificate," written by Dr. C. St. Claire Drake, dealt with the troubles of a man whose parents neglected to register his birth. The Children's Aid Society has issued a series of films showing the evil done by flies in carrying diseases and filth to the babies' bottles.

During New York City "Baby Week" last year, several animated newspapers presented the parades, outings, and prize baby show. Glasgow, Scotland, has given out pictures of the "Mother Craft" lessons. The Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor at Washington, D. C., has co-operated with one of the leading producing organizations by furnishing a series of "fillers" on "Better Babies." These were also augmented by the New York Chamber of Commerce, the National Federation of Women's Clubs, the Baby Welfare Association, the Sage Foundation, and International Pure Milk and Food Association. The Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs, with the aid of the State Board of Health, purchased reels on sanitary dairies, the proper way to care for milk, the care of the baby, and transmission of diseases. The Kansas Board of Health has prepared a graphic series of reels, showing preventive methods against the diseases peculiar to children. Smallpox, measles and diphtheria receive most attention.—Child Betterment and Social Welfare Magazine.

OUT TO OLD AUNT MARY'S

Wasn't it pleasant, oh, brother mine In those old days of the lost sunshine

Of youth—when the Saturday's chores were through And the "Sunday's wood" in the kitchen, too, And we went visiting, "me and you" Out to Old Aunt Mary's?

It all comes back so clear today, Though I am as bald as you are gray.

Out by the barn lot and down the lane, We pattered along in the dust again, As light as the tips of the drops of rain, Out to Old Aunt Mary's.

We crossed the pasture and through the wood, Where the old gray snag of the poplar stood, When the hammering "redheads" hopped awry, And the buzzard "raised" in the "clearing" sky, And lolled and circled as we went by Out to Old Aunt Mary's.

And then in the dust of the road again, And the teams we met and the countermen, And the long highway, with sunshine spread, As thick as butter on country bread, Our cares behind and our hearts ahead, Out to Old Aunt Mary's.

Why, I see her now in the open door Where the little gourds grew up the sides and 'oer The clappboard roof! And her face, ah, me!

Wasn't it good for a boy to see, And wasn't it good for a boy to be Out to Old Aunt Mary's.

And, oh, my brother, so far away, This to tell you she waits today To welcome us. Aunt Mary fell Asleep this morning, whispering, "Tell

The boys to come." And all is well Out to Old Aunt Mary's.

CLOSE OBSERVER

The day was windy. Her skirts were short. Likewise they were silken and made full at the hem. Her waist was cut low.

"There goes a girl," said Traffic Patrolman Brown, "that ought to be made to wear more clothes. It's scandalous. But I don't know as the law could make her do it."

"No, you can't pinch her for that," agreed his friend, Patrolman Mike Kirby, in the noon comment at the meeting of the beats, "but I tell you what you could do."

Kirby surveyed her ankles of pin like slenderness dubiously. "You might pinch her for having no visible means of support."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

DAYLIGHT SAVING WORKS WELL

Daylight saving was a success in Austria-Hungary, reports United States Consul General Albert Halstead from Vienna. Commenting on the results of the daylight saving experiment, which began April 30 and finished September 30 last, he says that it proved most beneficial to the health of the Viennese due to the extra sunlight in working hours and also did much to save the expense of lighting. It is calculated, he reports, that in Vienna alone the people consumed 158,000,000 cubic feet of gas less and saved $142,000. The city of Vienna required 14,000,000 cubic feet of gas less for street lighting.

TUJUNGA

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Dean and H. J. Free motored to Chino Tuesday.

Mrs. Julia Culver, who has been ill the past two weeks, is very much improved and is able to be out again.

The Friday Morning Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Linaberry on Monte Vista boulevard. A very fine time was reported.

Paul Johnson of Sunland has taken over the Tribune route for La Canada, La Crescenta, Tujunga and Sunland.

The Ladies' Aid spent the day Wednesday in quilting at the home of Mrs. W. B. Barclay on Greeley avenue. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess.

The new Segar cottage on Stevensway is being rapidly pushed to completion, as the Segar family is very anxious to get into their new home.

Paul Johnson of Sunland has opened a barber shop in the rear of Dean & Co.'s store, where he will be glad to meet his many friends who are in need of his services.

Frank Green, who has the contract of building a massive stone fence around the Johnson property at the corner of Stevensway and Central avenue, is very busy laying the stone and will have the structure completed in a week or ten days.

The Colonial Club held its regular meeting at the club house Saturday night. The first part of the evening was devoted to the annual election of officers to serve during the coming year. A new set of by-laws was also presented by the committee and were adopted. Mrs. Woodruff was unanimously elected president and the following directors were elected to serve one year: Geo. C. Buck, D. Costello, Mrs. G. J. Fischer and Van Batten. The board of directors at their next meeting will organize and elect a secretary, treasurer and appoint the various committees to serve during the year.

The Foothills Federation Committee, which was to have met with the president, Mr. Ashby, on last Thursday, postponed their meeting until Thursday of this week. Very much interest is being manifested in this organization and by the entire valley working together in harmony it is hoped that much good will be accomplished for the valley in general.

A large delegation of Tujunga citizens will attend the mass meeting at La Canada Saturday to boost for the flood control bond election, for which the meeting is being held. That this valley, almost to a man will, support the bond election, goes without saying, and it is hoped that every voter in the valley will go to the polls on February 20th and vote for these bonds, as this valley is sorely in need of flood protection.

John T. Ward, who has been very ill for the past few weeks, is greatly improved and is now able to be out on the streets again.

J. H. Lamson has several workmen building an addition to his residence and studio on Greeley avenue. Mr. Lamson is spending considerable money improving his property and when completed it will be a very handsome place. We need more of his type in Tujunga.

William Catt, who has been visiting his son for a few days, returned to his home in Glendale Wednesday.

Mr. Nemeyer of Los Angeles is remodeling and building to his property on Michigan avenue and will move his family here as soon as the house is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Brewer of Calgary, Canada, were in Tujunga over Sunday. They were very much impressed with our little village and its surroundings and are thinking very much of locating here. They left Tuesday for a visit at Long Beach, after which they will return here for a brief stay or will purchase property and remain permanently. The Brewers were guests of Miss McKee at the Bide-a-Wee while in Tujunga.

The school play which was given last Tuesday night was a great success. The teachers and children deserve much credit for the able way in which the entertainment was given. The people of the district showed their loyalty to the school and teachers by packing the house to its capacity. The school netted a goodly sum, which will go to the piano fund.

C. W. Fischer and family of Palmdale returned to their home Tuesday after a week's stay with G. J. Fischer and family of Walnut drive.

Michiel Jones, who has extensive holdings near the mouth of Hayes Canyon, is clearing the ground and will build a reservoir for his own private use. He already has two tunnels bored into the mountain side which will furnish ample water for his twelve-acre tract. Mr. Jones believes in the future of Tujunga and is spending a great deal of time and money improving his place.

ary of the Christian Endeavor Society. Thirty-six pink and white candles were lighted, carrying out the birthday effect. The president and lookout committee had charge of the meeting and it was handled in a very creditable manner. Every number on the program was both interesting and thoroughly enjoyed by every one present. The Juniors are very grateful to Mr. Maygrove and his able orchestra for their delightful music. The following was rendered: Prayer and Song Service in charge of Grace Greenfield.

Christian Endeavor Beginnings and Growth—Dolly Strachan. Christian Endeavor Principles—Mr. Shiras.

THE PLAIN PEOPLE

"I have put my faith in the wisdom of plain people," said the statesman.

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum, "the wisdom of the plain people is all right. The only thing I fear is that some of them are getting so that they know too much."—Washington Star.

WARNED

"These pills have a horrible taste," said the lady customer. "Please take them back and give me something I can enjoy."

"Very well, madam," answered the obliging druggist, "but please remember that the difference in the price of a box of pills and a box of bonbons is considerable."

A WOBBLING GAIT

"Didn't you know that if you struck this pedestrian he would be seriously injured?"

"Yes, sir," replied the chauffeur.

"Then, why didn't you zigzag your car and miss him?"

"He was zigzagging himself, your honor."

A huge eating competition had been held by some brawny sons of toil in a country town in Yorkshire and one of the competitors had succeeded in disposing of a leg of mutton, a plentiful supply of vegetables and a plum pudding, the whole washed down with copious draughts of ale.

He was unanimously declared the winner and was being triumphantly escorted home when he turned to his admirers and said:

"Ah, say lads, don't thee say nowt o' this to my ole woman or she won't gie me no dinner!"—Tit-Bits.

Tommy came out of a room in which his father was tacking down carpet. He was crying lustily.

"Why, Tommy, what's the matter?" asked his mother.

"P-p-p-apa hit his finger with the hammer," sobbed Tommy.

"Well, you needn't cry about a thing like that," comforted his mother. "Why didn't you laugh?"

"I did," sobbed Tommy, disconsolately.

BUSINESS

Lawyer—If I bring a suit against your husband I'll be able to get about a third of his income as alimony for you.

Prospective Divorcee—Umph! I can do better than that myself. For years I've been getting nearly all his salary out of him.—Lamb.

Little Lemuel—Say, paw, are you a self-made man?

Paw—Yes, son, and I'm proud of it.

Little Lemuel—But, paw, why didn't you use a looking glass?
